

GUEST LECTURE AND WORKSHOP

by

MUNENE KHOZA

Founder & Principal Consultant of Mint Language Consultancy

TOPIC:

SELL YOURSELF IN SECONDS: HOW TO NAIL YOUR ELEVATOR PITCH

BOOST your business IQ with INSIGHTS from a
COMMUNICATIONS PROFESSIONAL

Munene Khoza is the Founder & Principal Consultant of Mint Language Consultancy, a corporate communications and language enhancement firm. She is a well-rounded communications professional with extensive experience in providing strategic communications and project management counsel to clients across several industries. She is well-versed in the development and execution of integrated communications and stakeholder engagement plans, skills which she sharpened during her tenure at global public relations consultancy, Hill+Knowlton Strategies.

 Date | 27 June 2017

 Time | 11:00 - 12:00

 RSVP | info@riversandsihub.co.za

Who should attend? Anyone wanting to sharpen their pitching skills.

Prior to her specialisation in communications, Munene gained invaluable project experience at Accenture South Africa's Strategy practice, working with clients in Mining and Financial Services to effectively manage people through medium-to-large-scale organisational and system changes.

She is passionate about empowering people and organisations through language, an interest she explored in depth as part of her studies. She holds an MA in Language and Linguistics from Lancaster University (UK) and a BA (Hons) in English Studies and Film & Media from the University of Stirling (UK).